Dr. David Suzuki is a household name and Canadian icon who has dedicated his life and talents to protecting our planet and sharing that passion in an accessible way with a broad audience. He is familiar to us as host of the longest-running CBC TV series The Nature of Things, and to radio audiences as the original host of CBC Radio's Q & A, as well as the acclaimed series Life on Earth, Species and First Nations. After earning his PhD in Zoology from the University of Chicago in 1961, Suzuki gained worldwide recognition for his research on fruit flies and spent 39 years at the University of British Columbia, in the Zoology Department and then the Sustainable Development Research Institute, before becoming Professor Emeritus.

Suzuki believes that engaging people in science informs better policy, and through his broadcasts he has helped shape the collective worldview of generations of students, scientists, policymakers and citizens. He is also a tireless defender of civil rights, having endured a B.C. internment makee

A renowned artist, writer, curator and teacher, Dr. Roewan Crowe exemplifies the powerful impact an academic can have in the community. Crowe is known for spearheading transformative community art projects in her role as co-director of UWinnipeg's Institute for Women's and Gender Studies (IWGS); for her work with Mentoring Artists for Women's Art

An associate professor of mathematics, researcher and education activist, Dr. Anna Stokke has had a profound impact on math education policy and curriculum in Canada. She has personally provided high-quality math instruction to children from all walks of life and has improved the math skills of thousands of Canadian students through education and advocacy.

Stokke was dismayed when she discovered that every Canadian province (except

The Coat of Arms of The University of Winnipeg was officially adopted by the governing bodies of The University during the academic session of 1972-73. The elements found within the Coat of Arms have been associated over the years with both Manitoba and Wesley Colleges, the ancestors of United College. The bunch of grapes in the lower portion of the inner shield derives from the Coat of Arms of Manitoba College. The grape symbol has its origin in the College seal adopted in the charter of 1871. The cross, the lamp and the open book derive from the Coat of Arms of Wesley College, defined originally
