

- Other services may also provide similar services using artificial intelligence (AI)

Assistive listening device

- While the University does not provide personal listening devices such as hearing Aids or FM systems, some students will have sound receivers placed close to an educator. Educators ought to be receptive to these devices and allow students to place them.